80,000 FACE STARVATION IN STRICKEN QUAKE AREA

Death Toll May Mount
To Appalling Figure
Of 5,000

LONDON, March 9.—Dispatches to this city tonight from Tokyo indicated that the death toll in the Japanese earthquake may meet 5,000.

This appalling figure is based on the official report from Kyoto prefecture which states that in that district alone 2,275 lives were lost. Other points in the stricken area report varied loss of life from 250 to 1,500.

Thousands of Japanese are injured and it is expected that many of these will die from exposure and lack of quick medical attention.

Floods are inundating the devastated section tonight adding to the suffering. Whole tracts of country are devastated and in some of the towns and villages bodies strewn the streets still while the maimed and injured are of necessity left to shift for themselves.

A report to London from Kobe tonight states that there are 50,000 homeless.

Starvation faces many thousands of refugees. The complete demoralization of traffic is largely responsible for this state. Gales and heavy rains add to the plight of the sufferers.

Food and emergency supplies are being carried on the backs of coolies to the affected regions. Ten mile trips are made in this way.

West Vies For Coolidge Summer
White House Site

WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Coolidge's announced decision to establish the summer White House in the west brought new invitations to his desk today.

Former Senator Irvine L. Lenroot, in a personal conference, urged the President to go to Wisconsin. The President, in his one trip through Wisconsin, was very much impressed by the beauty and evident wealth of the state, even though it is the hotbed of Republican insurgency.

Lenroot told the President he would enjoy a cool summer at any of the lake resorts along the northern boundary.

Personal friends and secret service attaches will inspect the places tendered him before he makes his decision. Colorado Springs and the Black Hills of South Dakota have commanded his special interest.

Supervisor Zeb Knott of the first district of Contra Costa county is attending the state convention of supervisors held in Sacramento this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Austin, 1252 Fifty-sixth street, are the parents of a baby boy born to them yesterday at the Richmond Maternity hospital.

New Woe For Publisher

(By Eagle & Atlantic)

Counter suit may be filed by Mrs. Dorothea Campbell Young, former Polities girl, against mate, wealthy magazine publisher, who is suing her for divorce. Mrs. Young is shown holding Neal 2, whom Young denies is his child, and Rosebud, in their New York home.

C. C. WOMEN'S CLUBS HOLD ANNUAL MEET

In their Annual Convention, the Contra Costa county Federation of Women's Clubs met at Concord yesterday as guests of the Concord Women's Clubs. The meeting was held at the Christian church.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Davis, the president of the federation.

The convention met at 10 o'clock and annual reports of officers and chairmen were given.

A delicious luncheon was served by ladies of the church after which two delightful solos were sung by Mrs. P. Olivero, of Concord club, accompanied by Mrs. Richardson.

Dr. Jepson of the University of California gave a lecture on conservation of the Redwoods. Slides were shown during his lecture.

Call Mistake of Nurse Killing 6 Babies "Error"

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, March 9.—A human error probably will be given as the cause of the deaths of six babies at Columbus Memorial hospital, when the inquest into the tragedy is closed.

The six infants were poisoned through the mistake of three nurses, who fed them a boric acid solution in place of distilled water.

Unkind Names Form Basis For Divorce

MARTINEZ, March 9.—Suit for divorce has been filed by Mrs. Antonietta Bedbury of Richmond in the Superior Court here from Roy E. Bedbury. Mrs. Bedbury alleges that her husband called her a "dumbbell" and an "idiot" and that he held her up in an unfavorable light to other women of his acquaintance. The plaintiff asks $50 per month alimony.

Richmond Participation
In Carqueinez Opening
Fete Is Planned

All Richmond folk who are planning to join the motor caravan from Richmond to the Carqueinez bridge on Saturday, May 21, when the world's greatest highway bridge will be opened to motor traffic, are urged to register with the secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Aubrey Wilson, chairman of the bridge celebration committee, appointed by President P. M. Sanford, took up the matter of Richmond's part in the bridge celebration at the meeting of the board of directors at noon yesterday at the new Hotel Carqueinez.

"Oakland, Berkeley, Vallejo are all tremendously interested in the opening of the Carqueinez bridge," said Wilson, "and are making elaborate preparations to get together large auto caravans to make the trip to the bridge on May 21. The Richmond committee has met with the general celebration committee several times. It is our desire to have Richmond turn out in force to this celebration which means so much to the future development of this section of California."

Income Tax Man At 23rd Street Bank Friday

John A. Miller, deputy collector of internal revenue, will spend the entire day and evening of Friday, March 11, at the Twenty-third and Macdonald branch of American Trust company, to assist residents of east Richmond and San Pablo to prepare their income tax reports for this year, according to an announcement made today by Henry C. Solto, manager of the bank.

This is the third year that Miller has established his office at this conveniently located bank for the purpose of assisting income taxpayers residing in the eastern section of the city and town of San Pablo.

3 San Francisco Women Try Suicide

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—Three despondent women sought death today by suicide. One succeeded. She was Mrs. Ruth Angelo, 50. Despondency due to ill health was attributed by police as the cause of the woman's act.

Mrs. Marie Bonnici, 44, swallowed poison because, according to her story to the police, her husband deserted her and the juvenile court authorities had taken her four children when she was unable to support them. She will recover.

Deserted by her husband and despondent because of the recent death of her daughter, Mrs. Catherine Graves, 52, attempted her life by taking poison. She will recover.

Dredging Bids For Harbor To Be Called For

Bids for the dredging of Richmond harbor will be advertised for by government engineer John W. N. Schultz, in San Francisco, today, according to an announcement made by City Manager J. A. McVittie.

The contract will be awarded a month from date and the work will be started immediately.

The city of Richmond deposited a warrant for $142,500 in the federal reserve bank in San Francisco yesterday as its share in the dredging to a depth of 30 feet. An equal amount will be appropriated by the United States government for the work.

AMERICA PLANS TO SEND RELIEF TO AID JAPAN

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Philanthropic America stands ready tonight to go to the aid of Japan.

President Coolidge today asked the American Red Cross to learn at once the extent of damage and suffering caused by the earthquake and to ascertain every means by which assistance by the United States would be of avail.

Ernest J. Swift, director of insular and foreign operations of the American Red Cross, dispatched a message of sympathy and offer of aid, through the department of state.

Japan was quick to proffer aid when southeastern Florida was stricken by hurricane last September. A total of $46,868 was contributed.

Mrs. Jesse Glenn Schultz, of Ventnor, New York, was the only American killed in the earthquake. Earl R. Dickover, consul at Kobe, reported to the state department.

Mrs. Schultz was thrown into the sea from the gang-plank of the steamship California, at Kobe, during the quake.

The only property damage suffered by Americans was the destruction of Standard Oil company warehouses at Kobe.

Acting Secretary of State Grew sent the following message of sympathy to the Japanese ambassador:

"It has been with utmost sympathy that reports have been received in this country of the recent earthquake in Japan, with its attendant loss of life and widespread suffering. I hasten to extend to you, and through you to the Imperial Japanese government, the sympathy and condolence of the American government and people."

The Japanese Embassy made public a cablegram from the foreign offices at Tokyo, which said: "According to detailed information reaching Tokyo March 9 in regard to the recent earthquake, the destruction of property and loss of life center in the counties of Yosa and Naka in the province of Tango."

"About five-ninths of the town of Iwataki was burned with a loss of approximately one hundred lives, and one-third of the town of Kaya and one thousand houses in the town of Mineyama were burned causing the death of nearly one thousand persons."

"One-third of the town of Amio in the county of Takano was also destroyed by fire."

"As regards the damage caused to Osaka and Kobe, an exaggerated rumor has been spread, but it is without foundation, the damage to these cities being very slight."

Marines In Nicaragua To

In Peace Move

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The sailing of a British warship for Nicaragua took the state department by "complete surprise," it was revealed in testimony before the Senate foreign relations committee made public today by Chairman Borah.

Moreover, there was "no occasion whatever" for the presence of a British man-of-war in Nicaraguan waters, Stokely W. Morgan, chief of the Latin-American division of the state department, told the committee.

Morgan said the British embassy here had advised the state department that the British government was depending upon the United States for protection of its nationals in Nicaragua, but had not advised this government regarding the sending of the warship.

"There was no occasion whatever for the sending of the British ship," said Morgan. "I can't understand why it would be necessary for them to send a ship and we were much surprised."

JURY VIEWS MISHAP SCENE

With testimony virtually completed, the jury sitting in Judge A. B. McKenzie's court in Martinez hearing the $23,000 damage suit brought by Traffic Captain George A. Belon and the State Compensation Insurance fund against R. F. De Sanno of Richmond, were taken to the Richmond subway, Twentieth street and Macdonald avenue, the scene of the accident, yesterday afternoon.

Belon alleges that he was thrown from his motorcycle at the eastern end of the subway while turning off Twentieth street through the negligent driving of De Sanno. He was so badly incapacitated that he was unable to resume his duties for a year and was crippled in the left leg.

Traffic Officer Eddy Baker testified that he was at the western end of the subway at the time of the accident and saw Belon make the turn. The jury was convinced after examining the relative positions at the subway that a clear view is possible from that part.

Judge McKenzie dismissed the jury after the examination, and stated that the trial will probably be concluded today.

Admits Killing Bandit Partner In Holdup In Richmond Sunday

KILLER CONFESSES SHOOTING AFTER HOUR OF GRILLING BY OAKLAND POLICE

With the signed statement of Manuel Dutra, 24, of Oakland, confessing to the shooting of Frank (Cyclone) Malley, alias Allen in a Sunday night holdup in Richmond, and implicating two others in the series of holdups which have terrorized motorists of the eastbay for several weeks, the sheriff's office in Martinez is in possession of information which will undoubtedly send one man to the gallows and result in long prison terms for two others.

The three men are Manuel Dutra, 24, 1114 Kirkham street, Oakland; Manuel DeCosta, 24, 780 Fourth street, Oakland; Arthur Moran, 16, 776 Seventh street, Oakland.

Dutra, taken by police inspectors Wm. Marshall and Tom Wood of Oakland yesterday afternoon after he had been under surveillance for several days, broke under the strain of one hour grilling by Oakland police and admitted the holdups and slaying of Malley.

He claimed the shooting was accidental but took full responsibility for Malley's death.

DeCosta Confesses
DeCosta was taken shortly after when police swooped down upon his quarters at 780 Fourth street. Faced with the knowledge that Dutra had confessed, he admitted complicity in the series of Sunday night holdups.

The boy, Moran, who had been living with his parents until yesterday morning, was not at home when police arrived. His father, a barber, told police that the boy had left home that noon for San Francisco, where he intended getting work on a ship.

Dutra told police that he had driven the boy to 12th and Pine streets and that he had hopped a northbound freight train.

Moran Caught at Pittsburg
Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison, who with Undersheriff Billy Veale was in Oakland working on the case, immediately notified the sheriff's office in Martinez to be on the lookout for Moran, and to warn police departments throughout the county.

Moran was arrested in Pittsburg by Chief of Police Charles Scudero and Patrolman George Eastwood, who found him aboard Train No. 288 in company with 20 other men.

At first the boy was cool and self contained and denied any complicity in the crimes. He admitted to Deputy Sheriff J. M. Joseph that he had at one time worked for Dutra, who maintains a junk business in Oakland, but stuck to his denial. When he was brought to Martinez, however, he broke down and confessed that he was a member of the bandit gang.

Dutra, according to Oakland police, has a long record of petty crimes and together with DeCosta has been under surveillance for some time. Police suspected them of plans to hold up the representative of an oil company and were on watch.

Malley, the slain member of the gang, was shot during a holdup on the Dam road Sunday night. He was residing at the room of Dutra when the shooting occurred, having moved from his last address, 1123 Twelfth street, several days ago. He sometimes went under the name of Allen, according to Dutra. He was a teamster and was last employed by Louis J. Kennedy in Oakland.

The body of Malley was found Monday in an abandoned automobile in the Stege district and taken to the morgue in Richmond, where a number of attempts were made before the body was finally identified by Don Witt of Oakland.

FEEDING THE DOUGHBOYS

Uncle Sam is going to feed his soldiers better. By an executive order, there will be a larger ration hereafter, with more meat, potatoes and butter regularly, and more extras for holidays.

This will raise the daily cost of the army ration per man from 36 cents to 50 cents, and add $6,000,000 to the annual feed bill. But the country can stand it, as a matter of justice and a bid for military contentment.

The increase, as Secretary of War Davis observes, "will prove of importance in improving the morale of the army." As General Grant or somebody unpoetically remarked, "an army travels on its belly." In camp, it may still be more necessary to satisfy that unruly member, because soldiers have more leisure to think about food and develop grievances.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

The corporations of the country in the old days might have been able to dodge their responsibilities, but it is agreed and must be admitted as things stand now in the line of taxation, at least, they are not getting by on any very easy basis. According to a careful survey made of the corporation returns of 1924 it appears they gave thirty-six cents out of every dollar of their combined net income for the support of federal, state and municipal governments. The corporations of the United States in 1924 paid $2,541,000,000 in taxes to state municipal and local governments. The combined net income of these corporations was $6,995,900,000.00.

The estimates just completed and announced by the Federal Bureau put the population of the United States on the first of July next at 118,626,000 or an increase of 1,692,000 over the estimates for the first half of last July, and an increase of 12,917,370 over the figure of January 1920.

The police raided the night clubs at Miami the other night and found a lot of guests which indicates that in spite of all rumors Florida is not flat broke.

THE TREATMENT OF RUNNING EAR

The other day we left the doctor examining a youth's running ear and considering what to do about it. The ear had been running quite regularly for four years, since an attack of scarlet fever. The lad had faithfully tried out the sovereign remedy of numerous kind neighbors, "outgrowing it," but it was no good. He had frown fast enough yet he just couldn't outrun the ear. He had also got by two or three old time doctors who had suggested that it might be just as well not to meddle with such a thing. Some of the old doctors are so nice and tactful that they can stretch a point any time in order to defer to the fixed concepts of the laity.

The doctor recorded the degree of deafness in the affected ear, the granulation tissue or polyps he found in the middle ear cavity, the extent of caries or decay of the bones inside the drum, the state of the perforation in the drum, and the extent to which the mastoid cells behind the ear were already involved in suppurative or purulent inflammation.

In the majority of cases of running ear when the discharge is very profuse the mastoid cells are infected.

When an ear has been running a year or more it is time to think of surgical intervention.

Well, let that idea simmer. The doctor does not wish to alarm the patient needlessly, nor does he want to let the patient drift along to a serious or perhaps fatal mastoiditis or meningitis, complications which sooner or later happen in enough cases of chronic running ear to command consideration in every case.

The doctor in this case gives the ear cavity a thorough irrigation. He investigates the state of the rear nasal passage and the Eustachian tube, the "natural ventilating and drainage channel" of the ear cavity. He instructs the patient to save the cotton and keep no discharge in the ear canal; if the discharge is so profuse as to require a dressing to absorb it, insert nothing in the canal but keep a loose bit of absorbent cotton in the outer pocket of the ear and change it frequently, in order not to interfere with ventilation through the outer ear canal. Plugging a running ear is one good way to keep it running. Probably a good many cases of chronic running ear would spontaneously clear up if the victim did not keep the ear so carefully plugged, mainly because they wear they may "take more cold" in it.

The doctor instructed the young man to report for treatment three times a week. He gave him a solution of 10 grains of boric acid in an ounce of alcohol, with instructions to put several drops in the ear three times a day.

This 2 or 3 per cent, alcoholic solution of boric acid has earned some little reputation as a remedy for chronic running ear. Of course it cannot have much effect when there is bone necrosis, which demands radical surgical treatment, but a certain share of cases of chronic running ear do clear up after the use of the drops for a few weeks. In some cases the alcohol alone is sufficient, by virtue of its drying and antiseptic action. The addition of the boric acid prolongs the antiseptic effect.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Honest Linnell Is Worth While

I noticed in one of your talks you said Linnell does not penetrate the skin. My wife is under treatment for an injury of her arm and the doctor prescribed Linnell. Would like to have you tell us what the correct treatment should be. (T. J. E.)

Answer—In the same talk I pointed out that Linnell often does good or give relief nevertheless. I advise you to use the Linnell on your injured arm if my doctor prescribed it. Dishonest Linnell or other surface applications which purport to "penetrate" are generally worthless, but honest external remedies which good physicians often prescribe may be of great value in giving relief. When systemic effects are produced by such external remedies it is due to the absorption of the volatilized substance through the lungs. Local effects, such as counterirritation, of course do not involve the question of absorption. Only when the skin is cut, punctured, abraded or blistered can any medicine or poison be absorbed through it.

Soljuroldman
For several months I have been troubled with pains in my back. A friend says I have a vertebrae in my spine. Please tell me what kind of treatment I can take for this? (P. C.)

Answer—That isn't so singular. In all likelihood you have a dozen or more vertebrae in your spine. Maybe your friend meant a dislocated vertebra. If you have anything like that you'll be under the care of a doctor and a nurse, never fear. Is your friend a linguist? Next time he offers a diagnosis tell him "So jurold man."

Superintendent of Documents
Kindly print again the address of the government office where I may get the book which tells a mother how to explain to her little daughter the truth of life. (T. D. M.)

Answer—Send 5 cents to the government printing office, Washington, D. C., for a copy of "The Wonderful Story of Life," issued by the public health service.

The Instinct of the Savage
My 15-year-old son had a tattoo put on his right forearm in April last. It grieved me, but I discovered it too late. Is there any way to remove this hideous mark? He is sorry himself that he had it done. (Mrs. L. S.)

Answer—No, only excision of the mutilated skin and skin-grafting would care to do that. The boy would remove it, and few surgeons himself should be punished, and the tattoo man who mutilated him should be given 10 years in prison. (Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

SHOULD SHE BE ASHAMED?

How about being ashamed of our parents? Of our home? Of that kid brother who tantalizes when the best beau calls? Of the old fashioned furniture? The oil lamps? The mother who has a biting tongue? The father who slams doors around when Jimmie calls over the phone for Susie?

"Broken-Hearted" appealed to us to tell her whether she should be ashamed of her father who was a "bad actor." One reader said, "Honor thy father and thy mother." But another added, "if they are worthy of it." Another advised, "Overlook a father's grammar, clothes and table manners, but NEVER his mean disposition."

A young woman wrote, "Many a time I have come home with some friend to find my mother crying and my father dead drunk. Did that stop my friends from coming? No! They knew mother and I as we really were. For mother's sake I brought my company home to show my appreciation for her and through my friends to encourage her."

There's a fine thought: Give encouragement to the mother who has a lot for a husband. A fine sense of mother and daughter sticking together.

A drunken father, however, is nothing to be compared with a husband drunk with his own importance. Many a letter out of the hearts of youth comes to me from homes where there is constant jangling and senseless bawling of the male of the species who browbeats his wife and treats his children with less respect than his dog.

Ashamed of such a father? I certainly should be. Ashamed of the poor English my dad might use? Never. Ashamed of the oil lamps when my guests had electric lights? No, of course not. Ashamed of my mother's table manners? I'd be ashamed of myself that I hadn't helped her because I know that there isn't a mother alive who does not seek to improve herself on such things. Ashamed of the clothes she wore?

on that account. And what if a man does shave in the community bathroom every morning? Good heavens, no woman with a lick of sense imagines for a minute that her husband is a Greek god or something, and that magic takes away his whiskers in the middle of the night? Girls who become wives have been sisters and daughters of other men, and the alleged awkward intimacies that this Hurst lady writes about are natural things. Who wants to be on drawing-room behavior all the time? Wouldn't good old Toni Edison look funny at a pink tea? How do you think Abraham Lincoln would have looked at a junior prom, hey? And just because U. S. Grant chewed the end of his nasty cigars, do you think it made him any rougher when he won the Civil war? Supposing Roosevelt had never said "darn" in all his life, and—

No, and curses to be upon me if her poverty of dress is caused by the tuxedo she bought me that I might graduate in style.

But I would be eternally ashamed of a father who was such an unmitigated ass that he could publicly insult a decent boy friend who called me on the phone. I'd be ashamed of a father whose knowledge of young people was so slight that he fussed, fumed, and damned every attempt that his daughter made to enlarge her circle of friends beyond the cheerless God-forsaken fireside over which he was Lord and Master.

Ashamed of my parents' clothes, furniture, use of English? How absurd! Ashamed that they ate peas and scraped their plate with a knife? No, not ashamed exactly, but rather puzzled that they could be blind to ordinary manners and lacking in any desire to be in accord with modern ways. Ashamed if they were selfish, domineering, suspicious, evil thinking, full of know-it-allness? YES!

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER
Why Not Both?

I am not going to criticize the mother who thought more of her children having a good time and lots of freedom than she did about keeping the dust off the piano, but I want to ask you a few questions.

If we teach children that dust on the piano is all right when they are small, what will they think about it when they are grown?

Don't you prefer a well kept home as well as well kept children? Isn't the home the dwelling place of the mind and body, and why shouldn't it be kept nice for both?

CONSCIENTIOUS MOTHER.
ANSWER: No chance for argument here. Have seen, however, wives that make their husbands smoke in the cellar, and children, who were not allowed to bring company home because they tracked in dirt.

Am I Wrong?
Here's a problem: Four players on our basketball team signed an agreement that if any of them were kicked off the team that the other three would stick with him. Behold, one was fired from the team on account of his backtalk to the coach and his kicking whenever the referee made a decision against him. That gave a chance to the other three boys to quit the team without telling the coach about it. The result was we lost the next game because we only had three.

One of the boys that quit came the day after our defeat to the coach and asked whether he could come back to the team, saying he was sorry. But the coach would not listen to him and said he would not take them back, even if the chance of winning the championship is gone.

What do you say?
HIGH SCHOOL BOY.
ANSWER: Failure to stick together constitutes, in the eyes of the coach, a great sin. Sticking together for righteousness is fine, but why stick up for a poor sport?

In the eyes of the coach very possibly the school and most assuredly myself, the failure of a group to support the team by airing at a critical time their personal grievances was a serious matter. If I were the coach I'd never take those boys back. How idiotic for the three to support a blow-hard. Read "The Man Without a Country."

From the picture "A Regular Scout" starring Fred Thomson.

THE STORY SO FAR
Fred Blake is 1925 Coyote Plains Champion in the bucking-horse contest, and he comes to the Madras rodeo to compete and defend his laurels. He wins over the odds by his business-like appearance and genial manners. He enters the contest and rides Black Satan, a king of killers among rodeo horses. Silver, his own white and intelligent mount, is restless for some reason, and Fred, feeling a premonition of disaster, decides to ride for home.

Silver whinnied, grew tense, and shivered a little. Then, with a wide, powerful gallop, he struck out along the path toward the main gate of the rodeo-grounds, Fred, moving easily in the saddle, his eyes troubled and hard.

Two minutes later they were galloping down the dirt road toward the blue-misted mountains in the distance.

CHAPTER II
THE THREE-CORNERED SCAR
Lucinda Blake went out into the yard-enclosure with a rake in her hand, work-battered hands, she moved busily toward her flourishing little garden plot, laid the rake on one side, and getting painfully down on her old knees began to search for weeds. She was a quiet little body, extremely trim and neat, dressed in a plain and spotless cretonne work-gown. Her gray hair was tied in a simple knot, and several fine strands were blown by the evening-led wind across her eyes. Happily she brushed them aside and pulled infinitesimal growths of grass and weed from among her precious flowers. It was hard, she thought, to nourish green, glowing young plants in the dry soil of a desert country. With patience and a labor of love he had nurtured a pretty array of gay-colored blossoms in her tiny garden.

As she bent over, pulling at the elusive wisps of green, she thought: "If only Fred were here to do this for me. That boy!" She sighed, but not at all unappetizingly. She had been thinking of Fred all day, and the daily routine of weeding reminded her of her son, who, as a boy, ever of her son, was delighted in doing this back-breaking task for her.

Lucinda Blake thought of her son as a big, manly fellow. Fred, a big, manly fellow. How lucky she was to have him! He would be here soon, and they could talk about this poor woman who was searching so anxiously for her lost son, and perhaps laugh quietly over their own love.

At this moment she was brought to earth by a husky crackling cough directly behind her. She wheeled in momentary alarm and surprised anticipation, for an instant half-expecting to see the brown, strong, smiling face of Fred looking at her. But the next moment she was staring back a trifle fearfully, for facing her, framed in the doorway, was a tall, unkempt man in little more than rags, unshaven, with a weak, heavy lip hanging self-pityingly to show chipped, blackened teeth.

At the instant Mrs. Blake was undecided whether to call for help or stand her ground, but the man's attitude reassured her immediately. "M'awful sorry, ma'm," he mumbled, twisting his sombrero between his hands, "to be buttin' in this way, but I'm awful hungry—ain't nothin' for two days—could yuh give a poor man a bite to eat?" Mrs. Blake eyed him sharply, and then softened. An ordinary, honest, dirty and travel-worn. Probably kicked about like a dog. Poor fellow!

How young he must be! She stepped back and said, kindly: "Why, of course, young man! I've just been about a little cleaning, and I was going to prepare a little supper for myself anyhow. Won't you sit down? I—there pour the kettle! Just sit down—you can wash up in a jiffy—I'll have something hot for you right away!" (To be continued.)

Mrs. Blake sighed. There were such unfortunate mothers in the world! Mrs. Monroe—poor woman—her son—Fred, too—and it did not matter what she was wealthy. Of what good was her wealth without her son, the boy for whom she had undoubtedly stretched her arms pitifully in the darkness of her bedroom night after night? Poor woman!

Details of the time and place to get into the caravan line will be made later. We have already arranged for a brass band to head our caravan. Further details of Richmond's participation will be worked out. The chamber of commerce is interesting the various service clubs and getting them behind the idea.

Membership Meetings

That the general membership of the chamber of commerce may keep in close touch with the activities of the organization, plans are now under way to hold membership meetings at least every two months. The matter was brought before the directors by Director H. A. Johnston and met with hearty response.

The first big membership meeting this year will be next Tuesday night, March 15, when the chamber of commerce will entertain as guest of honor and principal speaker, Lester G. Ready, president of the Key System Transit company. Fred D. Parr will also be a speaker. A musical program is being arranged. Tuesday night's affair will take the form of a membership dinner. The place is the new Hotel Carquinez and the hour is 6:30 o'clock. Dinner is $1 a plate. Reservations are limited to 200 and chamber of commerce members are urged to make their reservations at once.

In speaking of the membership dinner on March 15, President Sanford said:

"We want a full 200 present. Richmond citizens are taking a greater interest in their community development than ever before. This is an opportunity to impress Mr. Ready with the fact that Richmond people are vitally concerned with the transportation problem and that we are alive in Richmond and that because of the tremendous development and growth of Richmond our relations with the transit company must of necessity be on an entirely different basis."

Industrial Committee

George N. Rooker, chairman of the industrial committee, made a brief report yesterday. He said that the committee was preparing a survey of Richmond with a view of getting all available data on industrial sites, size, location, price per acre as well as gas, electric and water rates, freight rates, shipping rates and other information essential to make an intelligent presentation to a prospective new industry desirous of locating in Richmond. The committee will meet again on Tuesday, March 22, at Hotel Carquinez.

The directors shied at taking

80,000 FACE STARVATION

relief trains with food, clothing and medical supplies, according to word received by the "Japanese-American," a vernacular newspaper here.

A total of 6,348 persons were either killed or injured in the earthquake which rocked western Japan on Monday, according to the "Japanese-American's" Tokyo correspondent.

In the Kyoto district 2,275 persons were killed and 4,197 injured. A total of 8,568 houses were destroyed by the earthquake and fire, leaving 80,000 people homeless.

News from the earthquake area filtering into Tokyo reveals a heart-rending picture of Kyoto, "City of Festivals."

Torrential rainfall and wind storms have added to the horror of the situation.

Emperor Hirohito has given 50,000 yen to aid in relief of the Kyoto sufferers and 1,000 yen to the Osaka earthquake fund.

A relief party consisting of three groups each having 50 doctors and nurses in charge of Dr. Ito of the Sixteenth army division, was sent to Kyoto from Tokyo this afternoon. Another train speeding to the earthquake district contained 50,000 blankets and 4,000 sacks of rice.

Property damage caused by the earthquake and fire and breaking of the Noda river levee in the stricken area is mounting hourly. The home office reported. The damage will total many millions of dollars, it was said.

Fire insurance companies have announced that they will not pay policy holders on the grounds that the damage was caused by an act of God.

Troops of the regular army are assisting the prefecture authorities and police in relief work. Bodies, as soon as they are removed from debris are carried into the streets and burned.

In contrast to the desolation and grimness of the situation in Kyoto, fruit tree blossoms have unfolded their beauty—but the festivals which heretofore have heralded the beauty of springtime and flowers will be postponed.

Kyoto, say Japanese here, will again rise to its place among the cities of Japan and regain its title as the Festival City of All Japan.

Mrs. V. B. Lawrence Entertains J. E. Club at Whist

Members of the J. E. club were entertained by Mrs. V. B. Lawrence in her home, 533 Eighteenth street, Tuesday afternoon when an enjoyable social evening was spent playing whist. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. L. W. McPherson and Mrs. Jack Lewis.

A color scheme of green and white in St. Patrick's motif made the decorations very attractive on the dainty refreshments, napkins and tables. The group will meet in the home of Mrs. Lewis on March 22.

Seasonal Rains Now 3 Inches Above Normal

The seasonal rainfall is nearly three inches above normal, being 2.01 inches while the normal is 19.80 for the season ending June 30. R. J. Lavery, meteorologist at the Standard Oil tank farm, announced yesterday.

During the storms of yesterday and last night over a half inch of rain fell. The high winds felt yesterday were the result of an exceedingly high pressure off the California coast and a low pressure extending west from Salt Lake City to this district.

The precipitation for this month has been 1.04 inches; the normal

Price May Attract the Shopper But Quality Holds the Customer

RARELY do you find a store consistently offering the most attractive prices in town on the better quality home furnishings. Ordinarily the two do not go hand in hand.

But at the Ashby a sound policy of merchandising has been evolved that permits of our offering fine furniture at prices as low as other stores must charge for only ordinary qualities.

Our rent is very low. Our other overhead expenses are also low. Our low-rent location is indeed an important factor in keeping the prices of Ashby merchandise down.

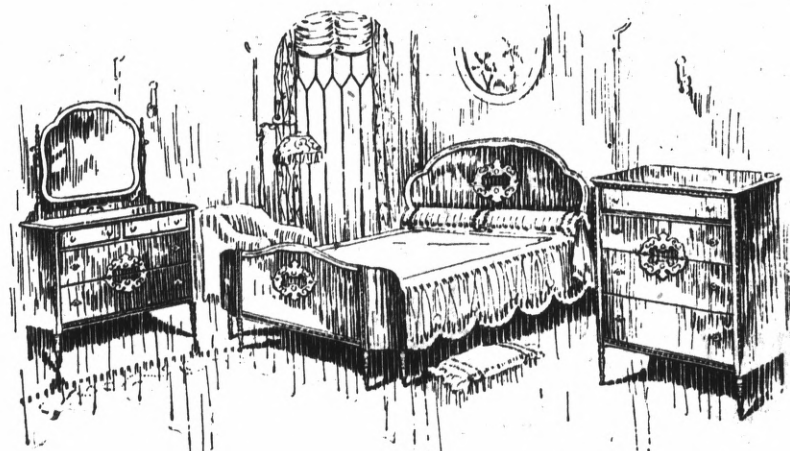

Our small margin policy simply means a little less profit on each sale to attract a large volume of business.

And we do not gamble with merchandise "created for sales purposes." Ashby quality is unvarying, day in and day out, as are the prices.

Price may attract you to the Ashby the first time
but QUALITY will hold you as a customer

Constantly, alert for the better things offered by the manufacturers, our buyer has procured a carload shipment of these excellent suites for east bay homes. Early selection is advisable, as the Ashby's low-rent price will exhaust the shipment in a very short time.

American walnut of choicest graining is used. Ornamentation of maple, overlaid, adds a note of smartness to each piece. The top drawers are of birdseye maple, in a shaded finish. The drawers have center guides and mahogany linings. Full dust-proof construction throughout.

In addition to the pieces illustrated there is a vanity at $72.50; twin beds at $40.00 each; semi-vanity at $53.75; straight end bed, $39.75; chair, $9.25; bench, $10.50, and night stand, $13.50. Any grouping you desire may be made up from these pieces.

4837 Shattuck Ave., Oakland, Cal. July 30, 1926.

Ten years ago I had Malaria which left me with a twinging pain in my left kidney and running around my left side. Before I came to Oakland I had treated with numerous physicians and had been in several hospitals in New York. As I got no relief whatever, I was advised to make a change of climate. I therefore came West, but here I suffered as badly as ever.

Finally a friend urged me to try the FONG WAN HERBS. One week of that treatment gave me wonderful, permanent relief. During the year that has elapsed since I have had absolutely no indications of my former complaints.

(How wonderful it seems that the FONG WAN HERBS could thus help me after the doctors and hospitals had failed. I am a barber by trade. Had it not been for the FONG WAN HERB TREATMENTS how could I have earned a living while suffering with those terrible pains?)

I am very thankful to the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST for what he has done for me and am giving him this testimonial as a token of my gratitude.

Record Crowd Hears Dr. Bulgin Preach On Noted Church Topic

A record crowd heard Dr. Bulgin preach his noted sermon on the church last night in the B. B. Tent. Methodist night was the feature of the gathering. Wesleyan Methodist church with Reverend Charles Lindemann, pastor; First Methodist church, with Reverend W. P. Grant, pastor, and the Community Methodist church, with Reverend M. H. Greenlee, pastor, participated in the services, and members from these churches occupied approximately one-half of the audience.

"Tonight I want to talk briefly on three things," Dr. Bulgin said. "They are the origin of the church, the authority of the church, and the power of the church. First, where is the origin of the church of Jesus Christ? The origin of the church is in Christ, the cross and the resurrection. The church of Jesus was not founded on what Matthew, Mark, Luke and John taught about Jesus or their construction of their doctrine. The church of Jesus was founded on the fact that Jesus arose from the dead, and, therefore, He was God.

"In this day of materialistic thought and materialistic philosophy, oh, how the church of my Lord in Richmond needs to have a house cleaning to call into the church those who believe in the vital things and race out of the church those who are undermining it. But it is so difficult to draw the line of demarcation between the world and God's people. The church is a divine institution founded by the Lord Himself on the confession that Peter made that Jesus was the ever-living God.

"Now what authority has the church? A great many persons have the idea that you have to join the church to be saved. No sir; get saved first. If your feathers are washed white, get in. "It is no more correct to say a person is a Christian because he goes to church than it would be to call a man a horse because he goes to the livery stable once in a while.

"The word of Jesus Christ, the ever-living Son of God, is the authority of the church. "The authority of the church does not lie in the bishop, or the evangelist, or the preacher or the people. Where is the authority? It is in Him who founded the church, the great God Almighty.

"When Gerard went in before that mighty German emperor and laid down the writing from the hand of that great man, our President, oh, it will take about 50 years to write the correct history of Woodrow Wilson and put the laurel wreath on the brow of him who bore the brunt of the most awful struggle the world has ever seen—Gerard laid down that paper from the pen of Woodrow Wilson and said, 'Kaiser, you stop your damned ships or we will bankrupt our nation to protect humanity, for we are a Christian nation. That is my word and that is final, and I hope you will believe what I say.' And he walked out. Why did he speak in these terms? Because he was the ambassador of a great nation and was speaking with authority.

LOVE, NOT GREENBACKS
"Now, what about power? The church of Jesus Christ has to be run with spirituality and if she is not run that way she is not run at all. She may run a little while but she will run down. We have money enough in the church, we have members enough. The church of God does not need members or money half as bad as it needs the Holy Ghost.

"We need more love today and less of this greenback stuff. "It's a dark day for the church when it can raise $100,000,000 and at the same time suffer a decrease in membership.

"When I can get along here in California without a body then you can get along with the church of God.

"I have married the fairest flower in the world. There never was one like her. Suppose that you were to invite me to come to some function but say that I must leave my wife behind. I would not accept your invitation. You could not be a true gentleman if you said, 'I like you but I don't like your wife.' No man would stand that. Yet this town is full of folks saying, 'I am going to be converted but I don't want to join the church.' You practically look in the face of Jesus and say, 'Jesus, I love you but I'll hell with your bride the church. You cannot separate the two. The church is the bride and if you are going to be true to the divine Groom the bride belongs to him and blessed be God she is going to be preserved to the second

Kerensky Arrives To Do Literary Work

Alexander Kerensky, Russia's liberator, performed real well for the camera boys in this session on the S. S. Olympic at New York. Kerensky arrived for a two months stay, during which he'll do writing. "America is with Russia," he declared. He looks forward to overthrow of Bolsheviks and hopes to regain his power in Russia.

Chips That Fall From Bulgin Axe

God cannot regenerate you and recreate you unless you've been converted.

If you can go to Heaven on "a square deal," Calvary and Gethsemane were an extravagant waste and God is a fool.

Literature that lifts people up to God must have come from Him.

God is the generator of life and He is the regenerator.

Nature as a God has no more care for a baby than for a pig or a toadstool.

When you hold a controversy with God and settle it on your side the Holy Ghost is out of your life.

When God asks the test question of a surrendered life He gives you back more than you give up.

Every one of the new cults hatched in America and Europe in the last fifty years is a Christless, bloodless, crossless doctrine.

It would be mighty hard for an angel to talk to a sinner on earth. That's why God used a mule to talk to Balaam.

Jehovah ordered warfare not for conquest of property but for conquest of principle.

There's some hope for a man whose sin hurts him like a broken bone.

When you get to Heaven the only question will be, "Did you bear the image of Jesus? Did some lost soul see Christ in you?"

Ignorance of God's Book is one of the appalling sins of America.

Any man or woman who has once had a real taste of the things of God cannot forget them easily.

Living for God is like riding a bicycle: when you stop pumping you've got to get off.

Going to church doesn't make you a Christian any more than a man going to a livery stable is a horse.

You cannot be just as good a Christian outside the church as inside.

If God has you, all the money that belongs to Him you'll give to Him when you are His.

Devils are indestructible because they are the will and personality.

We need today more love and not so much of this greenback business.

If the dynamic power of the church is the Holy Ghost it will have all the money needed.

Today Jesus Christ is your savior, in the last day He will be your judge.

Like Pilate of old, you have Jesus on your hands and must dispose of Him. What will you do with the King?

When the church is not run by spiritual power she is not run at all.

Sometimes preachers are too busy to spend much time petting you.

Get in the church of God like an army and be a good soldier. We've produced jazz morals as the result of our jazz music and jazz ideals.

coming and blessed be God that may be soon."

ARMY, BRIDE, MOTHER
Dr. Bulgin compared the church to an army, for discipline, to a bottom, to a bride, and finally to a mother, and this last he said was the sweetest of all comparisons to him.

At the conclusion of his sermon on the church, Dr. Bulgin read a pledge to the church which he asked all church members in the audience who were willing to stand by the church through all time, to stand and take a solemn oath to support. The pledge read: "My church is the place where the word of God is preached; where the power of God is felt; the spirit of God is manifested; the love of God is revealed, and the unity of God is received. "The church is the home of my soul; the altar of my devotion; the heart of my faith; the center of my affection and the foretaste of heaven. I have united with the church in solemn covenant; pledged myself to attend its services; to pray for its members; to give it support and to obey its laws.

"The church should have the first place in my heart; the highest place in my mind; the principal place in my activities, and its unity, peace and progress concern my life in this world and that which is to come, my benevolence and my prayers.

"I owe to the church my zeal. When I neglect its services I injure its good name; I lessen its power; I discourage its members, and chill my own soul.

"I have solemnly covenanted in the sight of God and of men to advance the interests of the church by my faithful attendance; by reading the Holy Bible; by never neglecting its ordinances; by contributing to its support; by meeting with my fellow members; by watching over their welfare, and by joining with them in prayer, praise and service.

"And that promise I this day solemnly renew before God, the Father, Christ my rescuer, and the Holy Spirit my sanctifier.

Mrs. Violet Williams and Mr. J. R. Thompson of Wesleyan Methodist church offered a duet that was well received. A delegation from Point Richmond Methodist church was present at last evening's services, and El Cerrito M. E. church was also represented. Rev. Bulgin's topic for tonight's sermon will be, "What Think Ye of Christ?" It is Baptist night in the big tent tonight.

HUGE SUM OF $82,600,000 IS SPENT BY S. O.

Illustrative of the enormous volume of business done by the major California oil companies, as well as the remarkable yearly increase in efficiency shown by them, is the 1926 earning statement of the Standard Oil company of California, issued several days ago, which also included the effect of the acquisition during the year of the Pacific Oil company.

The company actually spent during the year, outside of operating expenses, over $82,600,000 in cash, yet after dispensing this enormous amount of gold, closed the year with over $17,000,000 in cash in its treasury, which was some $2,000,000 more than the previous year. The unusual cash outlay during the year was required by the retirement of $20,000,000 of notes, a like amount spent for the acquisition of the Pacific Gasoline company, only slightly less for the purchase of new operating properties and approximately $25,200,000 distributed to stockholders in the form of dividends.

The foreign drilling activities of the company, among the most colorful developments of American industry, were confined for the year to Colombia and Venezuela, where the company is expending vast amounts of money in prospecting for oil. Drilling operations in Alaska, however, as well as in Ecuador and Argentina, have been abandoned and all equipment removed.

Talented Artists At Roosevelt Concert

The weekly concert in the auditorium of Roosevelt Junior high school today will be presented by Mrs. E. L. Scofield, soloist, and Mrs. Myrtle Smith pianist, according to an announcement made by Miss Helen Morehouse, director.

The program will include "A Fairy Tale," "The Idole," "My Lindy Lou," "If No One Else Marries Me," and "There Are Fairies in the Bottom of Our Garden," by Mrs. Scofield; "Two Larks," by Mrs. Smith; "De Hoot Owl," "Daddy's Sweetheart," "The Big Brown Bear" and "The Shadow March" by Mrs. Scofield.

Under questioning Morgan said there had been only one American casualty in Nicaragua. That was a man shot in the head during a bombardment but he recovered.

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, March 9.—An announcement today by the navy department of the "field organization" of marine forces in Nicaragua gave added emphasis that the United States will keep a firm hand on affairs in the little republic until peace is restored.

Gen. Logan Leland, marine corps, has taken complete command of all marines ashore in the western part of the country except those at Corinto, by order of Admiral Latimer, commander of the special service squadron.

Gen. Leland's troops include the 1,200 marines from the transport Henderson, the legation guard at Managua, and the land plane aviation unit.

Capt. J. C. Townsend has assumed command of the base force, which consists of the detail at Corinto and the cruiser Galveston. In addition, a coast patrol has been formed, including the cruiser Raleigh, two seaplanes from the cruiser Milwaukee, and the destroyers Borie and Rubin James.

The state department announced that the Diaz proposal that the United States assume a formal protectorate over Nicaragua for 100 years, has not arrived here as yet. It is understood that Secretary Kellogg is opposed to negotiating such a treaty.

—The new line of Kolster receiving sets for the home, in five models using either six or eight tubes, are now on display. They have no complicated dials for tuning. Instead, a station selector, marked in meters, is turned by a single knob. The circuit used is Dr. Kolster's patented tuned selector circuit, consisting of four stages of special radio frequency and three stages of specially designed audio frequency amplification in the eight-tube models, and three stages of radio with two of audio in the six-tube sets. A power tube is used in the last stage for maximum quality with volume. This circuit does not require the ordinary inter-stage shielding because the design of each stage is such that there are no stray currents interfering with other stages.

—Twenty-five years of continuous radio research by Dr. Kolster, and 15 years of development by the Federal Telegraph Company of California are embodied in this year's models of receiving sets. A console power cone is an addition to this year's line. The built-in cones are flexibly mounted in rubber and designed to accommodate the deep bass notes as well as the high pitches.
